

Cities Reveal 3D Landmarks On Garmin, Uconnect 8.4N

OLATHE, Kan. – Garmin International Inc., a unit of Garmin Ltd., a global leader in satellite navigation, last week announced the next generation of its award-recognized navigation system built into Chrysler vehicles.

New Garmin navigation system.

The new Garmin solution is part of the Chrysler Uconnect 8.4N infotainment system and includes several new features and enhancements. It is available for 2013 model year Chrysler 300, Dodge Journey, Charger and Dart vehicles (offered standard on some models and optional on others).

new Garmin system also displays 3D terrain views of landscape elevations, helping drivers to see what lies ahead;

New features include 3D buildings and terrain views, improved traffic and routing functionalities, a refined user interface with enhanced colors and themes that are consistent with each vehicle brand and junction views that now cover more than 60,000 intersections across the U.S., among other enhancements.

- New, Customized User Interface – Garmin introduces a new color configuration and design of its user interface that is customized to Chrysler and Dodge vehicles and provides a more refined look and feel;

“Our partnership with Chrysler has been extremely successful over the last two years, gaining praise from consumers and industry experts alike for the unmatched level of ease of use and reliability of our navigation solution,” said Matt Munn, Garmin’s managing director automotive OEM.

- Trip Planner, myTrends and Multi-Route View – A new Trip Planner feature allows users to easily plan trips with multiple stops, view routes in an overview screen and edit destinations at any time. myTrends automatically remembers frequent and favorite route destinations based on driving habits and predicts them at certain days and times without the user needing to enter an address.

“We’re thrilled to now introduce new features to provide drivers even better orientation and road guidance with stunning 3D views and enhanced routing technology.”

- When starting a trip, the new Multi-Route View displays route options, such as fastest and shortest, in one convenient overview map, including time and distance for each, so users can pick their preferred route.

New features of Garmin navigation for the Chrysler Uconnect system include:

- New Routing Features and Enhancements – Garmin’s new navigation system includes a couple of new features that improve routing. trafficTrends predicts traffic conditions and recommends routes using historical traffic data and recurring trends at any given time or day.

- 3D Buildings, Landmarks and Terrain – Realistic 3D views of buildings and key landmarks throughout major U.S. cities provide drivers better orientation. Using topographic map data, the
